Berwyn Defeated by Narberth, 13 to 2

Bob Martin's Hitting Features an Easy League Victory
Saturday.

PARKS WINS HIS SECOND

By DAVE CASEY

Defying the twin perils of torrid heat waves and Berwyn's sun-baked and mountainous baseball field Gene Davis' fast improving Narberth Club gained an easy victory over Bob Paist's outfit last Saturday by the lopsided score of 13-2.

Keith Parks, the local boy, who last year hurled for the Narberth Juniors, turned in his second league victory for the boroughites. This youthful curver again pitched a brilliant game, limiting the Berwyn team to seven hits, four of which came in Berwyn's one run-making inning, the fifth. At no other stage of the game did the Berwyn boys even threaten to score, as Parks polished them off easily in the four remaining frames.

The Narberth boys found Scott a pitcher very much to their liking as they hammered his delivery for sixteen clean hits, among them a home run and five three-baggers. In addition the Berwyn hurler issued five bases on balls, which helped to swell the run-making total. Bob Martin, Narberth right-fielder and one of the few modern ball players with the courage to wear a moustache, led the assault with three mighty triples and a single, all of which were instrumental in sending Narberth runs over the plate. Other potent sluggers were Herb Baker, with a home run and a single; Bob Jones, with a triple and a one-baser, and Harry King, with three clean singles.

The Davismen got off to an encouraging start in the first inning when Baker and Slaughter drew passes and scored on Martin's first triple. Then Gilfillan and Martin worked the delayed steal and while Paiste was endeavoring to tag Gilfillan the fleet Martin scooted over the plate, giving the borough boys a three-run lead.

Berwyn's errors coupled with timely hits by King, Slaughter and Jones gave Narberth single runs in the fifth and sixth innings. In the seventh two more were tallied on Baker's long

Narberth Boy Playing for National Marbles Title

After getting off to a good start on Monday in the opening round of the national marbles championship at Atlantic City, Herbert Roser, of 474 Brookhurst Avenue, Narberth, fell down on the second and third days of the tournament, relinquishing the lead he held the first day.

In Monday's play, Roser, who represented the Cynwyd School and won the Main Line, Montgomery County and Philadelphia district titles, won seven out of eight games he played. On Tuesday, his luck turned, and although trying hard, he dropped six out of ten games. On Wednesday his jinx still pursued him as he was defeated in five out of seven contests.

Shull Rotary Speaker; Install Officers Tuesday

Alvin E. Shull, speaker at the meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club's luncheon on Tuesday, told of his recollections of Northumberland County, where he spent his boyhood. ## FIREWORKS ARE ORDERED

There's nothing to cheer about in the way the money is coming in so far, but there is no doubt rescue will soon come, as there is quite too much town pride in this annual occasion to permit us to come a-cropper in 1931, even if times are tough enough.

At any rate, the Legion has been told to go ahead and sign on the dotted line for twenty per cent. more pyrotechnics than last year, and we shall all see that we are not reckoning without our host.

* * *

Maybe our keynote has nothing to do with the international plan of debt delays, with its consequent stimulus to trade and industry, but certainly we can say that our idea about the Fourth of July collection is a philosophical twin to the child of Ambassador Sackett's brain.

* * *

Let each one of us get through quickly with our part of the needed cash, else the day will come and the show on its way without any help from us, in which event we would have to light more than a Murad to appear nonchalant, if you know what we mean.

* * *

We stress, once again, the fact that we are absent from home on the big day is no reason why we should likewise be absent from the honor roll which helps to glorify the patriotic

Hearings on Tuesday

Hearings will be conducted Tuesday evening in Borough Hall by Burgess Henry A. Frye for violations of the stop street ordinance. About twenty cases are scheduled for hearing.

One Day Earlier

In order to have the paper in the hands of our readers before the Fourth of July, printing schedules will be advanced next week. All news and advertising copy must be in our hands a day earlier than usual.

Down Colored Giants in Twilight Game

By DAVE CASEY

Due to a mix-up in dates by a Philadelphia booking agent Manager Gene Davis was forced to cancel his advertised game with the Oriental Club last Monday night. However, by some energetic action the Narberth manager was able to secure the services of the Philadelphia Colored Giants as an opponent and the Narberth boys shut out the invaders by a score of 6-0 before a large crowd.

The brilliant pitching of Jack Jackson, a University of Pennsylvania hurler and a new comer to Narberth ranks, was mainly responsible for the Narberth victory. The tall right hander had little trouble with the colored club, allowing them one lonely hit and fanning eight. In addition to his splendid curving, Jackson also fielded his position very efficiently, having five assists to his credit.

The Narberth batting order, which is improving immeasurably with each twilight game, gave Jackson able support by pounding out eleven safeties from the delivery of Carrington.

The leaders of the attack were Gilfillan and Reynolds, who each had a pair of singles, and Jim McKee, the hitting pitcher, who was doubling as a left-fielder, with a long two-bagger. The fielding features of the game were a sensational stop and throw by Bob Gilfillan which robbed Warner of a deserved hit, and two fine catches by Martin, the visitors' left-fielder.

Narberth Downs East Philly; Visitors Make Triple Play

Narberth experienced little difficulty in defeating the East Philly nine Wednesday evening at the Borough's Community Playground by the score of 8-3.

Bill Reynolds, who pitched so well against Hilldale, was again in top form and held the Philadelphia Club to 6 scattered hits. Meanwhile the Narberth boys were battering the visiting pitcher for 13 hits with Rubican and Reynolds leading the attack, Rube clouting a double and a single, while Reynolds had a homer and a one-baser.

The feature of the game was the execution of a triple play by the visitors in the sixth inning which was handed to them by dumb base running by Narberth. With Martin on third, and Gilfillan on second, Francis hit an easy fly to right-field. While Martin hesitated at third, the visitors trapped and ran down the Narberth shortstop. Martin, attempting to score while Perlstein was tagging Gilfillan, was flagged at the plate by the visiting shortstop's accurate throw. This completed the first triple killing seen on the Narberth field in many years.

By this time one would have thought that base running in the blazing heat would have tired out the Narberth sluggers, but such was not the case and in the first half of the ninth they once more fell upon the luckless Scott with a fusillade of hits that brought the entire batting order to the plate and added six more runs to the mounting tally of the slugging Davismen.

Ruth Chatterton, "only stage star whose screen performance is consistently better than her stage work," is coming to Narberth next Monday and Tuesday with Paul Lukas in "Unfaithful." Not recommended for children.

Rated by critics as good entertainment is "The Cohens and Kellys in Africa," in which Sydney and Murray are to appear at the borough theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Starting Friday and Saturday of next week will be the Bobby Jones golf series. Feature attraction will be "Kiki," Mary Pickford's new and dramatic role.

Comedies at Egyptian

George Arliss gives a thoroughly entertaining performance in "The Millionaire," a modern comedy, at the Egyptian Theatre this week-end. The whole family will enjoy it. Also of interest is the new Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Chickens Come Home."

Next Monday and Tuesday the Cynwyd playhouse will offer "Mr. Lemon of Orange," in which El Brendel and Fifi Dorsay utter dialogue concocted by Eddie Cantor.

Coming Wednesday and Thursday is "Stepping Out," a pleasing comedy starring Charlotte Greenwood and Cliff ("Ukelele Ike") Edwards.

So pronounced has been the popularity of Maurice Chevalier films that the Egyptian has secured a request-repeat booking of "The Love Parade," for next week-end. The music is good and the comedy diverting. Aiding the French comedian considerably in making the talkie good entertainment are Jeanette MacDonald, Lillian Roth, Eugene Pallette and the acrobatic Lupino Lane.

A Boomerang. An attempt to pass a bad check on Mrs. B. M. Listed on the record as "Jane Doe," she is wanted by Norristown and Upper Darby police for the same offense.

Duty before Friendship. A friendship of twenty-five years did not prevent Magistrate Tom Cronin, of Ardmore, from fining Robert Patrick, of Penarth and Radcliffe Roads, Cynwyd, $10 and costs for disorderly conduct and interfering with an officer. Patrick was arrested with his wife when he argued with an officer who remonstrated with Mrs. Patrick for failure to observe a "Stop" sign at Meeting House Lane and Montgomery Avenue, Narberth. Mrs. Patrick was fined; and costs for violation of the stop ordinance. Mr. Patrick threatened to take the case to higher authority, charged the officer with discourtesy.

Warrant withheld. With the return to his home of Anthony L. Aff, missing vice president of the Counties Title and Trust Company, Ardmore, whose disappearance revealed a shortage of $11,900 in his accounts, the warrant issued by the bank for his arrest has been withheld. Said Ledyard Heckscher, president of the bank: "Mr. Aff has shown his willingness to unravel the complications attending the only matter in controversy between him and the bank and in view of the fact that his attorney has given his assurance that Aff will be surrendered to the authorities of Lower Merion Township at any time upon demand, the warrant has not been formally served."

Main Line Friends. At the 250th anniversary of the founding of the Philadelphia yearly meeting of Friends held last Saturday at Burlington, N. J., several Main Line Liners participated in the program. Rufus Jones, of Haverford College, presented greetings from the New England Yearly Meeting; Mr. and Mrs. H. Tatnall Brown, Jr., of Haverford, were cast in tableaux as Governor Jennings and his wife; others in tableaux: John W. Cadbury, Jr., of Haverford; George Vaux, of Bryn Mawr; Henry N. Woolman, Jr., of Valley Forge; I. Thomas Steere, of Haverford; Henry J. Cadbury, of Haverford. Mrs. H. V. Gummere, of Haverford, was one of the speakers.

Ruth Scull Smith Weds*Alexander C. Betus

The marriage of Miss Ruth Scull Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Smith, of Brookhurst Avenue, Narberth, and Mr. Alexander Charles Betus, of Narberth, took place on Wednesday, June 24, at noon, at St. Andrew's Episcopal Chapel, West Manayunk. The Reverend Timothy E. Woodward officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white crepe, fashioned on long slender lines and a picture hat of white lace and horsehair. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Mary A. Robinson, of West Manayunk, an aunt of the bride, was the maid of honor and only attendant. Her frock was of rose beige chiffon fashioned on simple lines. She wore a large picture hat of Alice blue straw. Her slippers were of beige satin and she carried a bouquet of blue delphinium and tea roses.

Mrs. Smith was attired in a flowered chiffon. Her hat was of orchid straw and her corsage of tea roses.

Gardeners, Attention!

While one's own gardening ambitions may be limited by lack of time, space, energy, capital or other reasons, it is still possible for all gardeners and lovers of the beautiful to enjoy vicariously the efforts of others.

The lecture on "The Great Gardens of the World," to be given at the Narberth Theatre on Tuesday morning by Mr. Schrepfer, assistant professor of landscape architecture at Penn. is a case in point. The creation of many of the gardens to be described and illustrated by Mr. Schrepfer was the work of royalty, involving the expenditure of vast sums. But the enjoyment of these gardens is now open to nearly everyone, and understanding their design is a factor which heightens enjoyment.

To those who have traveled abroad, it will be a pleasant refreshing of memories, to others it will be the opening of new vistas in how nature has been transformed by man.

The lecture is for the benefit of the welfare work of the Narberth American Legion Post and thus you will be killing two birds with one stone.

This is an affair to which the children can be brought with great profit on account of its educational nature.

Dangers of Encroachment

The keynote of the resident's attitude was epitomized by Philip C. Staples when he declared, in presenting the findings of the Committee on a Plan for Lower Merion to the Commissioners last week, that "we want to preserve what we have."

In any community there is bound to be conflict between residential and commercial interests. On one side there is the group of people who regard the suburbs as an attractive place in which to live and raise their families. On the other, the promoters who see so much territory to develop and profit by.

There is no denying that there must be business sections in even the smallest communities, but these should remain subordinate to the chief purpose of a suburban community which is residential.

Tying in with this idea of Mr. Staples of preserving what we have are two moves by the Board of Commissioners last week. One was the appointment of a Shade Tree Commission with jurisdiction over the trees on all public highways and on public land which will prevent the ruthless destruction of trees comprising one of the priceless assets of any suburban community; and the other, the settlement of the width of the improvement of Gulph Road in Bryn Mawr at twenty-seven feet avoiding the destruction of the historic trees along the roadside wherever possible. The Commissioners have thus lined themselves up with the residents.

Mr. Staples further said the formulation of a township plan would forestall encroachments and the dangers of encroachments. Public hearings are held once a month, as a rule, by Lower Merion's Board of Adjustment to settle cases arising from zoning disputes. Some of these are perfectly natural problems resulting from arbitrary divisions of territory into residential and business zones, one shading into the other gradually. Yet there are also deliberate attempts to change a residential section into a business district by real estate promoters who are only interested in the section from the viewpoint of profit. There are cases now before the courts with this in view. It is these attempts which people who regard the Main Line essentially as a home community must view with alarm and as a threat to their future peace and happiness.

Natural growth cannot be held back nor retarded. But unjustified efforts to change radically the character of a community should receive the careful scrutiny of all citizens who regard the Main Line as a beautiful section of homes which should be preserved as such.

Library Travel Club*Begins Work Monday

The Library Travel Club for children begins its work next week on Monday. Each summer for several years there has been an increasing amount of interest shown in the summer reading for children as sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' Association and the Library, until last summer those who received certificates from the Library stating that they had satisfactorily completed the course of reading numbered more than forty.

Preparations are being made now for an even larger number of successful entrants than that commendable number. The work as outlined by Miss Church, the librarian, will follow similar lines to that of last year and the books read by the children will consist of those that reveal interesting phases of life in many countries.

Beginning with a story of Philadelphia, the children by means of the books they read may travel all over the world, becoming acquainted with other children and other customs in other lands. In this year of the Geneva Conference and the greater necessity for considering all countries as neighbors this is a pertinent subject which it might not be amiss for adults to follow.

Miss Church has maps in readiness for the children to color and to mark as they proceed on their journey and the Parent-Teachers' Association will award prizes in the fall for those who do outstanding work, but there will be certificates for all who complete the requirements. Further information may be had of Miss Church at the library or from her assistant, Miss Crist.

Miss Florence Schollenberger*Is the Bride of Mr. George*T. Donaldson on Saturday

The marriage of Miss Florence Schollenberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Burgess, of Sabine Avenue, Narberth, and Mr. George T. Donaldson, son of Mrs. Effie Donaldson, of Ardmore, took place at 5 o'clock last Saturday afternoon at the Narberth Presbyterian Church. The Reverend John Van Ness, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a model of ivory-tone satin, fashioned on long, slender lines, with a V decolletage, and a full flaring skirt which formed a train. Her veil was of tulle arranged in a cap effect and fastened to the head by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Laura Layton, of Philadelphia, who acted as maid of honor, wore a frock of pale pink satin with a tight-fitting bodice and a full skirt composed of rows of ruffles. Her hat was a large picture affair of pink horsehair and her slippers matched the color of her gown. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Maude Donaldson, a sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Hazel Stickley, of Philadelphia. Their frocks were of pale blue satin fashioned on lines similar to that of the maid of honor's. They wore pale blue picture hats to match the color of their gowns and slippers of the same tone. They also carried bouquets of pink roses.

Mr. John Kunkel, of Chester, acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. Roy Keffinger, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Howard S. Arthur, of Chestnut Hill.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents on Sabine Avenue followed the ceremony.

Upon their return from a wedding trip Mr. Donaldson and his bride will reside in Cynwyd.

Drought Won't Affect

Water Supply This Summer

A possible prolonged summer drought this season, similar to the one experienced last year, will have no effect on the domestic water supply of residents of Delaware, Chester and Montgomery Counties, says a statement of the Philadelphia Suburban Water Co. issued this week.

The completion of the new $2,500,000 Crum Creek Reservoir in Marple Township, Delaware County, that holds in reserve over 4,000,000,000 gallons of Springfield water, will for many years to come guard against dry periods and supply adequate water under all conditions, officials of the Water Company said.

The structure forms the largest artificial lake in eastern Pennsylvania, and covers an area of 400 acres. It is irregular in shape and measures over a mile and a half at its widest point.

Water at the dam breast is seventy feet deep.

Although the reservoir is being filled entirely by water from Crum Creek now, a complicated system of interconnecting mains, worked out by Water Company engineers, makes it possible to reroute water from other distant streams of supply and dispatch it to the Crum Creek location.

Just as if You Went

COLONIAL VILLAGE turns back the pages of history, and lets you live awhile in the quaint, old-fashioned times of 1776. A soft-mannered, white-haired butler quietly opens the colonial door for you, and bids you hearty welcome to this charming Martha Washington House in the Colonial Village at Wayne.

In the big, generous kitchen a typical mammy is cooking—and crooning a spiritual while the pot boils. In the reception room girls of the olden times, white-wigged and with bouffant skirts curtsy, and beg you to have a cup of tea. Sit down near the huge fireplace and sip a silent toast to George Washington. Martha Washington House recaptures the quaint charm of Early America. Every detail, from its gay chintz wall papers to the genuine lighting fixtures of pewter, is reminiscent of a century and a half ago. And as you go outside to the spotless barn with its box stalls, harness room and coach house, you will be surprised at the low price of this modern reproduction of an Early Pennsylvania Farm House. It graces more than an acre of ground adjoining the historic Valley Forge Park.

JOHN J. HILLS

John J. Hills, of 156 Merion Avenue, Narberth, died very suddenly on Sunday morning. His death was due to a stroke of apoplexy brought on, no doubt, by the extreme heat of Saturday and high blood pressure of several years' standing.

The funeral services were held at his late residence on Tuesday afternoon and were conducted by the Reverend Samuel MacAdams, pastor of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church. The burial took place in Arlington Cemetery, Drexel Hill. He is survived by his widow and a daughter Gladys.

Mr. Hills was connected with the Prison Labor Division of the Department of Welfare of Pennsylvania and for 12 years had been superintendent of the shoe industry of the Eastern State Penitentiary in Philadelphia.

By ROBERT J. EDGAR

It won't be long now!

The beetles will soon be here!

From any more pests like this one—good Lord deliver us.

Let us spray.

Thermopsis caroliniana flowers with delphiniums in mid-June. The bloom is a spike of clear yellow and the plant reaches a height of four feet—a fine companion. Plants may be purchased or it may be grown from seed by patient gardeners as the seeds sometimes take six months in the frame to mature. Not wholly hardy under all conditions but well worth the effort.

Aphids have been awfully busy due to the damp season and the fact that they multiply so rapidly. Spraying with pyrethrum-soap or nicotine-soap will get them if the spray touches the insects; if a few are missed it will be necessary to spray again in a few days. Dry weather will stop the aphid activities but meanwhile they will do considerable injury to young tender growth. Norway maple trees can stand having a few leaves dropped although the dropping liquid is a little rough on windshields.

Watch for lacewing fly on evergreen azaleas and rhododendrons. Azaleas showing a dulling or silvering of the leaves indicates the work of the fly. The under-side of the leaves will be marked with pitchy spots and a search will reveal the pretty little flies. Fish-oil soap and nicotine is the old-fashioned remedy but the newer pyrethrum-soap is just as effective and more pleasant to use. It is necessary to thoroughly spray the under-side of foliage as the insects do not appear on the surface of the leaves. Rhododendrons show brown spots on the under-side of new leaves.

The Japanese beetle is a real pest and requires strenuous methods to control as it is a voracious feeder over a long season and may completely defoliate certain plants which it likes to feed on. The leaves of a tree serve not only as lungs, through which the tree inhales and exhales, but also as the stomach where raw food is prepared for assimilation. Defoliation in July means that the tree must put out another set of leaves and it is doubtful if many of our trees have sufficient reserve to accomplish this. To protect the foliage from being eaten is the first consideration in saving our trees and shrubs. This can be done as the leaves remain until fall so that a lasting coating will serve the purpose.

Coated arsenate of lead is recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as well as by the States of Pennsylvania and New Jersey as it has been found that this spray has the best lasting power on the foliage and serves as a repellent to the beetle or as a stomach poison if the coated leaf is eaten by the beetle.

Certain trees and shrubs cannot stand as strong a solution as others, experienced sprayers know the proper mixtures. For roses and flowering plants that are making new growth throughout the season such spraying is not effective and it is necessary that the plants be sprayed frequently with a contact insecticide such as pyrethrum-soap and that the insects be coated with the spray.

Traps draw beetles to them and while some are caught many more are not caught and more grubs are found in the ground in the areas where traps are used.

Treating lawns with dry arsenate of lead and sand will protect the grass from being destroyed, will kill many grubs but will not prevent beetles from flying in from untreated areas. Again we say—let us spray.

Won't you see to it that your name is on next week's list, not merely to secure for yourself public praise, nor to strut before the multitude, but altogether to give evidence that you are convinced that an anniversary of the nation's birth ought to mean a very great deal to the American people and, for one, you do not believe it should be allowed to go unnoticed and unsung.

Gas Station to Be Erected on General Wayne Property

A gasoline filling station will be erected on the General Wayne Inn property, Montgomery Avenue, Narberth. Agreement was recently reached between John T. Odell, proprietor of the General Wayne, and the Shell Company.

Mr. Odell will manage and operate the station, leasing the ground on a percentage basis. The gas station will occupy a plot in the southeast corner of the property. The inn itself will be untouched. Mr. Odell expects to open a coffee shop in the inn in conjunction with the gas station in the near future.

The General Wayne was padlocked by Court order on May 19, 1930, for alleged violation of the prohibition law. One of the oldest and most historic buildings in Montgomery County, it has had but three owners in over 100 years.

The Sentinel of Safety

Life is like the sea. When the sea is calm, boats move confidently towards their destined ports, serene in the belief that all is well. Storm-ridden, however the sea presents another picture . . . and sailors are thankful for the friendly, directing beam of the lighthouse, "The Sentinel of Safety." Comparable to the lighthouse is the bank when the Sea of Life is in its blackest fury. People who have saved turn, then, to the bank, confident and assured of safety till better days arrive again.
